

Dru Nadler

'The ultimate goal of a community lawyer is to do myself out of a job,' Charlene LaVoie says. 'When citizens know the process, when they are not intimidated by it, and are ready to accept responsibilities as citizens, what more could a democracy ask for?'