THE HISTORY OF WINSTED MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Adelyn Howard was born in 1861 in Brooklyn, NY. In her mid-teens she was stricken with tuberculosis. She believed in the need of a Hospital in Winsted and hung on her bed post a small bag where friends placed contributions in it over the years. At her death, the sum donated amounted to a total of $240.00. This small contribution along with her crutches and wheelchair, were left in hopes that a hospital would be built. A friend of hers, Anna Hamilton, wrote a poem and from the poem came the idea of a shadow box which was placed on the wall of the Hospital near the entrance for the purpose of contributions.

Adelyn died in July, 1898. The anniversary of Adelyn's death is observed each year by the Women's Auxiliary of WMH by placing flowers under the current shadow box area where there now hangs a plaque in her honor. Flowers are also placed on the altar of St. James church in Winsted in her memory on that day.

November, 1899, the Litchfield County Hospital and the Winchester Hospital Association Corporation adopted the joint name of the Litchfield County Hospital of Winchester.

In 1901, the Hospital was incorporated as the Litchfield County Hospital of Winchester, the Women's Auxiliary was organized.

1902, the original building opened with 35 adult beds and a few bassinets. In October, 1912, a new Nurses Home was completed and occupied at a total cost of $19,000.

This institution was first known as the "Hospital on the Cobble".

1922, the largest single gift that had been received by the Hospital thus far came from the estate of Alfred Woodruff in the amount of $93,689.06. The Hospital then planned to put on an addition and redecorate the nurses home with the donation.

On May 8, 1924, the Auxiliary placed the Shadow Box Fund Contribution Box on the wall of the Hospital entrance in memory of Adelyn Howard. At that time, the cost per patient, per week was $33.43. Also at that time, there was an annual census of 1,120.

On September 21, 1924, the 1,000th baby was born here.

In the early 1940's the Gilbert School students were very active in making surgical dresses for the Hospital.

During the early years the Auxiliary was very active in making contributions in furnishings, rugs, silverware, the nurses home, equipment, instruments, etc. and were very creative and tireless in their fund raising efforts.
